Valentin

In a safe container within our small community we allow experimental sound creations and witness each other in authentic self-expression, silent movement and many facets of our personal emotional worlds. Co-Creatively we will dive into Soundscapes and open Jam sessions that emerge from silence and intimate moments with our instruments.

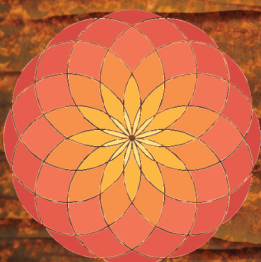

One essential part of our togetherness will be a specified timeframe of 24 hours in which we mute ourselves in order to expand our perception. In this, we consciously connect with one another and open up to various ways of communication. We activate our voices and encourage each other to express without words.

Our Meeting Point / Location

In a remote retreat-center within the Vosges mountains, we are surrounded by the natural sounds of silence that provide a peaceful environment for creativity and self-exploration. In this project, we create space that offers to naturally enter into a meditative state of mind. This is an invitation to go through serene soul experience.
